VII. ACTIVIDADES METODOLÓGICAS

➤ OPENING

The class will start with a warm up called Simon says: the idea is that the students make a semi-circle and the teacher is the king Simon, so he 'commands' the students to do something and they have to 'obey', for example: Simon says touch your head. And all the students have to do it. The students that do it wrong will be eliminated until there is just one.

➤ DEVELOPMENT

For the development the students will have a functional class in which they are going to learn how to combine the background knowledge about body parts with the simple present in order to describe their own body and their classmate's, for instance (I have 2 legs – She has 2 arms). In this explanation the use of flashcards and posters are essential to complement.

➤ Closure

The closure is going to be a pair up activity in which the students have to create their own monster, using some body parts that the teacher will give them then, when they finished, they will have to make an oral report explaining "my monster has three legs, four arms, one eye" and so on. And all the students have to take notes and know all the information of their partner's monster.

VIII. MATERIALS

- Body parts.
- Flashcards.
- Monsters body

IX. EVALUACIÓN

For this class, participations, the creative way to make their own monster, and their oral report will be taken into account.
