

My first week

This first experience was amazing for me, the students received me with a good willingness to learn, I asked them to introduce themselves and also I wanted to know their dislikes and dislikes, where they live, their age etc. When they finished I talk a little bit about myself and we started with the class about elections and everything was very good.

In the second class I felt the students were a little bit demotivated in spite of I did some games for them to change their attitude they didn't work as I had wanted, this second was not as good as I would like.
